ARTICLE II — POWERS GRANTED

The Principal grants the Agent authority to act on the Principal's behalf with respect to the following matters:

- (a) Financial Affairs — To manage bank accounts, investments, and other financial instruments; to sign checks, drafts, and financial documents; to collect debts and settle claims; and to file tax returns on the Principal's behalf.
- (b) Real Property — To buy, sell, lease, mortgage, or otherwise deal with real property owned by or to be acquired by the Principal, including executing deeds, contracts, and closing documents.
- (c) Legal Proceedings — To institute, prosecute, defend, settle, or compromise any legal action or administrative proceeding on behalf of the Principal, and to retain and discharge attorneys and other professionals as necessary.
- (d) Business Operations — To conduct, manage, and transact all business affairs of the Principal, including the formation, operation, and dissolution of any business entity in which the Principal has an interest.
- (e) Insurance and Benefits — To manage, claim, and collect proceeds from insurance policies, retirement accounts, pension plans, and government benefits to which the Principal is entitled.

ARTICLE III — LIMITATIONS

Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Power of Attorney does not authorize the Agent to:

- (a) Make healthcare decisions on behalf of the Principal, including decisions regarding life-sustaining treatment.
- (b) Modify, amend, or revoke the Principal's last will and testament or any codicil thereto.
- (c) Transfer assets to the Agent or the Agent's estate without documented fair-market consideration and the Principal's prior written consent.

ARTICLE IV — DURABILITY AND REVOCATION

This Power of Attorney is durable and shall not be affected by the subsequent disability or incapacity of the Principal, except as terminated by the Principal's death. The Principal may revoke this instrument at any time by delivering written notice to the Agent and to any third parties who have received a copy of or relied upon this document.
